

History Wars in Sweden? What history Should We Teach the Children in Sweden? History in primary school 1919-2014, from narrative to decons- truction?

Johan Samuelsson, Ph. D.
Senior Lecturer in history of education
Karlstads University

Johan Samuelsson, PhD, is a senior lecturer in history of education at Karlstads University. He is also the project manager for the development of the national exams in history in primary school. His doctoral thesis dealt with the narration and use of history in Cities. Today he is doing research on assessment in social studies and the use of history in the society.

It all started with the Vikings: History Teaching in Swedish Primary School" "One for all, all for one? Social studies and interdisciplinary perspectives in Swedish Schools"

Martin Stolare
Associate Professor of History
Karlstads University

Martin Stolare works at the Centre for Social Science Education, Karlstads University. History Education in the Primary School is Stolare's major field of interest, where he especially focuses on the history teacher and their work. Stolare has a background as a historian, as such he has done research within the fields of Social Movements and Education History.

Mercredi 10 avril 2013

12 h
Pavillon Marie-Victorin
B-328
Université de Montréal

Le CRIFPE, en collaboration avec

Le Laboratoire d'histoire virtuelle (Virtual History Lab) et l'Unité de recherche « Faire l'histoire/Making History » de l'Université d'Ottawa.